POST OFFICE SETS NEW POSTCARD RATES – CC PLAYERS PLAY FREE !

In an attempt to recharge a faltering economy, the US Post Office announced on Saturday that postal chess players will be able to obtain special cc postcards at the post office that will allow them to play for free. A leading post master said, “The Post Office lost 2.4 billion dollars last year. More and more people are switching to email. It was either let the chess players play for free or raise our rates and cut back on our services. That one was a no-brainer!” The Post Office suggests you do not ask for these cards.

INVESTORS WANTED! NEW LEFT-HANDED CHESS BOARD!

If you are like most left-handed chess players, you are probably tired of being discriminated against. It’s always the same old story – “White on the right” – “Always have a light square on the right hand side when setting up the chess board”. Thanks to a new invention, you no longer have to be a slave to the right-handed majority. We are looking for left-handed investors who would like to spend a lot of money on the Lefty-chess, a revolutionary new chess board with a dark square in the left hand corner! Send money now!

CORRESPONDENCE CHESS BANNED AS TORTURE BY AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Correspondence chess was branded as an extreme form of mental torture by International Amnesty. Anyone who has been under constant mental pressure for twenty moves, lost a Pawn, and then watched helplessly as the Pawn inexorably moved up the board causing resignation after sixty moves, and all this multiplied by days or possibly weeks for the postcard to arrive, knows the delightful torture known as correspondence chess. Amnesty International recommends everyone to play more correspondence chess to further study this issue.

Austrian stamp featuring XVI World Champion Tunc Hamarat

Now that Austria has set the standard with this stamp commemorating XVI World Chess Champion Tunc Hamarat, can we expect the United States to issue stamps honoring Hans Berliner ? Victor Palciauskas ? or even Paul Morphy ? Bobby Fischer ? If your answer is yes, have a happy April Fool’s Day !

TREASURES OF THE PAST

It is an odd mixture of sadness and joy that I have been experiencing lately. I have been gathering games for writing a book on the USCF Absolute tournaments. The sadness comes from the realization of how spotty our historical record is when it comes to saving the games of these great tournaments. In some of the Absolute tournaments I have found a total of no games by some of the participants. I am working hard to find some of those games, and I could use your help. But before I put you to work, let us first take a look at some of the joy.

Let's go back thirty-one years. It is 1977, the second USCF Absolute tournament.

Frank Camaratta as he was then (1977)

SICILIAN DEFENSE (B96)

White: Frank Camaratta

Black: Donald Dean

1977 Absolute

1.e4 c5 2.Nf3 d6 3.d4 cxd4 4.Nxd4 Nf6
5.Nc3 a6 6.Bg5 e6 7.f4 b5

This game was played in the heyday of Polugaevsky's "Sicilian Labyrinth" still topical today.

8.e5 dxe5 9.fxe5 Qc7 10.Qe2

Today most of the analysts are interested in 10. exf6 Qe5+ 11. Be2 Qxg5 as in Kogan-Smirin, Maalot-Tarshiha 2008

10...Nfd7 11.0-0-0 Bb7 12.Qg4 Qb6
13.Be2 h6

This weakens Black's Pawn structure and its not seen too often today. Fun was 13...Nc5 14. Rhf1 b4 15. Qf4 Qc7 16. Ndb5 axb5 17. Qxf7+! Mahini-Ghader Pour, Zone 2001. The key line today is 13...Nxe5 14. Qg3 Nbd7 15. Bf4 b4 16. Na4 Qa5 17. Nb3 Qxa4 with the better game for Black in Balashov-Mecking, Manila 1976.

14.Bf4!?

This seems to be a Camaratta TN neglected these many years. Kavalek-Polugaevsky, Las Palmas 1974 (and others) saw 14. Qh3 Nxe5 15. Rhe1. Can it be repeated ? I will leave that up to the reader.

14...g5 15.Bg3!

Amazing. White keeps the e5 Pawn secure even at the cost of his Queen.

15...Bxg2 16.Rhg1 h5 17.Qxg5 Bh6
18.Qxh6 Rxh6 19.Rxg2 Ra7?

Black has the material, but White has the mobility. A fair fight now would be 19...Nc5! 20. Bf3 Ra7 21. b4 Rd7!? 22. bxc5 Qxc5 when Black may have an edge.

20.Bf2!

The line up of Queen and Rook versus this Bishop promises White a tactical payday.

20...Qa5

Black can stay in the fight with 20...Rh8 21. Ndx5 Qc6 22. Rg3 axb5 23. Bxa6 Qc7 24. Bxb8 Nxb8 25. Bxb5+ Kf8 26. Re1

21.Rg8+ Nf8

Black runs into a mate after 21...Ke7 22. Nf5+ exf5 23. Nd5+ Ke6 24. Re8 mate

22.Nb3

22. Ndx5 works well here, but Camaratta holds it back for later.

22...Qc7 23.Bc5 Nbd7 24.Nxb5

This sacrifice is clearly winning but 24. Rxd7! Kxd7 25. Rxf8 Qxe5 26. Rxf7+ Ke8 27. Rxa7 is more fun.

24...Nxc5!?

And now Dean strikes back with a counter sacrifice of the Queen which stops the onslaught, but leaves White well in command.

25.Nxc7+ Rxc7 26.Nxc5 Rxc5 27.Bxa6

The fireworks have stopped. An endgame is reached that will be an easy win for White.

27...Rg6 28.Rxg6 Nxg6 29.b4 Rxe5
30.c4

This trio of soldiers is unstoppable, but Black manages to force Camaratta to fight for the point.

30...Re4 31.Bb5+ Ke7 32.a3 Ne5 33.c5
f5 34.Rd2 Nc4 35.Bxc4 Rxc4+ 36.Rc2
Rg4

Nor does 36...Rxc2+ help. A king can stop two connected passed Pawns, but three connected Pawns is another story.

37.c6 Kd8 38.b5 Kc7 39.b6+!

Once you start these sacrifices, it's hard to stop even in the endgame.

39...Kc8 40.c7 Rg8 41.a4 Kb7 42.a5
Rc8 43.Rd2 1-0

After Rd8 a White Queen will return to the board.

I am sure you enjoyed this game. If you are or have been an Absolute player, I appeal to you to send me your games for the historical record (and so that others may enjoy your play!) Please send them to Alex Dunne, PO Box 367, Sayre, PA 18840 or chesskinetics@stny.rr.com
